DETAILED ACTION

1. This application has been examined. The response filed 12/16/04 has been entered.

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 39-40, 50-53, 63-66 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Krishnamurthy et al (6389464) and Leong et al (6393475) and Rothermel et al (6678827).

4. Regarding claim 39, Krishnamurthy et al show: an SNMP agent with direct access to configuration data (column 4 lines 44-54), an HTTP server (column 10 lines 30-47) and SNMP manager only accessing configuration data by communicating with the SNMP agent (column 9 lines 1-24, column 13 lines 16-36), a combined text interface generator and HTTP client only accessing configuration data by requesting the HTTP server and SNMP manager to communicate with the SNMP agent (column 11 lines 45-56, column 13 lines 30-45) so that all safety mechanisms are built into the agent for security (column 9 lines 1-10). Krishnamurthy et al may not explicitly show a combined HTTP server and SNMP manager, but do mention the combined text interface and HTTP client (as noted above) and the incorporating of data concerning the network management with the browser format. Furthermore, Leong et al do show combining the HTTP server and SNMP manager, to incorporate data concerning the network management with the browser format (column 3 lines 45-57, column 6 lines 25-40). It would have been obvious to a person with ordinary skill in the art to combine the HTTP server and SNMP manager in Krishnamurthy et al, because it would provide an efficient way to incorporate data concerning network management with the browser format. Neither Krishnamurthy et al nor Leong et al show the details of the messaging between the combined HTTP server and SNMP manager with the SNMP agent and HTTP client, but Krishnamurthy et al do mention safety mechanisms for security. Furthermore, Rothermel shows the messaging system between the network manager, agent, and server for safety mechanisms for security. It would have been obvious to a person with ordinary skill in the art to have this in Krishnamurthy et al, and thus in the combined system of Krishnamurthy et al and Leong et al, because it would allow efficient safety mechanisms for security.

5. Regarding claim 40, the HTTP server and SNMP manager generate HTML documents with anchors that contain identifiers for MIB objects (column 6 lines 27-45, column 10 lines 47-60). The combined generator and HTTP client transmits messages containing identifiers for MIB objects in response to user input (column 12 lines 20-36).

6. Regarding claims 52-53, Krishnamurthy et al show a user interface with a text menu system (Figures 5-6 for example).

7. Claims 50-51 show the same features as 39-40 above and are rejected for the same reasons.

8. Claims 63-66 show the same features as 50-53 and are rejected for the same reasons.

9. Applicant's arguments filed have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The cited portions in Leong et al do show the combined SNMP manager and HTTP server, both explicitly and also implicitly in order to carry out the HTTP protocol. The motivation to combine is proper in order to provide an efficient way to incorporate data concerning network management with the browser format, which Krishnamurthy suggests, and to which Leong et al provides a technique.

10. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
